CLARK MIXES INTO WALLACE POLICY SCRAP

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS SLURS AT U. S. ARE LIES

Philadelphia, April 15 (AP) — U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark tonight defended the U. S. foreign policy as a fight against "the attempted encroachment of Russia" and criticized the attempts of anyone for trying to tell "the people of Europe that the United States is committed to a ruthless imperialism."

The attorney general's statements were in a speech prepared for delivery at a Jefferson day dinner in Philadelphia.

No Names Mentioned

In a pre-dinner press conference, Clark refused specifically to name as the object of his criticism Henry A. Wallace, saying:

"The speech speaks for itself."

His remarks, however, left no doubt in the minds of his audience that he was referring to the former's vice president's recent speeches abroad.

"One who tells the people of Europe that the United States is committed to a ruthless imperialism—and war with Russia—tells a lie," Clark said. "It is a most cruel falsehood because it reveals a lack of understanding or appreciation of the American way of life.

"The cheap blundering assault now being made by some upon the bi-partisan foreign policy of our nation must not be allowed to provoke action on our part which would be utterly out of keeping with democratic principles."

Clark conferred with President Truman yesterday, leading to speculation that his address might be official administration reply to Wallace."

Bad Americanism

However, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that so far as he knows, Clark did not submit the speech to the president.

Clark called urgently for passage now by Congress of the $400,000,000 aid program President Truman has asked to help Greece and Turkey.

That, he said, will let the world know that America is as determined in her purposes as were the Concord patriots who fired the shot "heard round the world" at the start of the war for independence.

That also, he said, will answer those "who would attempt to exploit the respect paid to the high office they formally occupied."

"Our position is crystal clear," he said. "Such exploitation is not only bad taste, it is bad Americanism."

Wallace stirred up a controversy that still is at white heat by telling a Manchester, Eng., audience last Saturday that the Greek-Turkish program embarks the United States on "ruthless imperialism" and points the country toward war with Russia.

The White House attitude, as relayed by Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, is that Wallace is touring Europe as a

Program Outlined To Solve Michigan $83,000,000 Deficit

Lansing, April 15 (AP)— The Michigan public expenditure survey today presented a four-point program to Governor Sigler for a solution of the state's impending $83,000,000 deficit.

Sigler disclosed plans to submit his special fiscal message to the legislature at 10 a. m. Thursday.

The survey, a taxpayers' group, proposed that the state recapture from local government $19,900,000 in state rebates, including the intangible tax, special liquor tax, liquor license fees, racing fees and severance tax.

It proposed that municipalities be allowed to levy excise taxes to relieve their own financial distress, such action subject to a vote of the people.

It recommended the state take back two-mills of the real estate tax to finance the veterans' bonus and to impel an equalization of property assessments throughout the state.

As a last resort, the survey recommended state luxury taxes if funds still are needed to balance the budget.

Earlier, rural representatives at a meeting with Sigler proposed taking back the liquor, intangible and severance taxes and racing fees.

W. G. Armstrong, master of the state Grange, and Clark L. Brady, secretary of the state Farm Bureau, proposed the recapture of the state grants, but said cities would not be penalized any worse than would counties.

Waldo Phillips, Farm Bureau director, declared any such move, however, should be accompanied by a gasoline tax increase to compensate county road commissions for losses in revenues.

Jay Gibbs, president of the Michigan Municipal League and Ferndale city manager, asked for more time in which to study state budget figures. He said the league endorsed recommendations of former Governor Harry F. Kelly's tax study commission.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit, representing the league also declared "we don't think the state will have an $83,000,000 deficit," and that likewise was asserted by Mayor Georeg Walsh of Grand Rapids. Both were sponsors of the sales tax diversion amendment which state officials blame for the deficit.

SENATE LABOR BILL REVAMPED

Limit On Industry-Wide Bargaining Ripped From Measure

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The senate labor committee today again toned down its general labor bill regulating strikes and unions and wrapped it up to await expected formal committee approval probably Thursday.

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans once more over-rode Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) and by a 7 to 6 vote ripped from the bill a provision limiting industrywide bargaining. But Taft succeeded by a one-vote majority in keeping the legislation in one piece. The minority sought to split it into three bills.

In the main, the house bill would ban many kinds of strikes provide a formula to comthose affecting national welfare; prohibit most cases of industrywide bargaining; outlaw the closed shop in which only union members can be hired, and restrict many union practices.

Among other features, the senate bill would: authorize for federal court suits aaginst unions for breaching contracts; empower the attorney general to obtain court orders against "national paralysis" strikes; brand jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts as "unfair labor practices;" require financial reports from unions; set up a mediation agency outside the labor department, and call for a senate-house study of the whole field of labor relations.

Presidential Term Limit Ratified By Total Of 11 States

(By The Associated Press)

The proposed 22nd constitutional amendment limiting U. S. presidents to two elective terms and not more than 10 years in office received the approval of three additional states yesterday (Tues), bringing to 11 the total which have ratified it.

One state, Oklahoma, has refused to act on it by voting indefinite postponement.

The three legislatures which approved the amendment yesterday were New Jersey, California and Vermont. Previously it had been endorsed in Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire and Oregon.

The proposal must win approval of 36 states within seven years to become operative.

Decision In Murder Mystery Is Dumped In Governor's Lap

Detroit, April 15 (AP)—Final disposition of the controversial Lydia Thompson murder case, revived by indictments issued by Circuit Judge George B. Murphy's one-man grand jury, apparently is up to Governor Sigler.

The decision to dump the matter in the governor's lap was announced in a statement issued after the so-called "showdown meeting" today between Judge Murphy and his critics, during which a telephone call was made to the governor.

"Problems connected with the Thompson case were carefully reviewed," said the statement, "and it was unanimously decided to withhold any decision as to further procedure in connection with the prosecution of this case pending a conference with Governor Sigler tomorrow night in Detroit."

VACCINATION ADVISED

Lansing, April 15 (AP)—The Michigan health department today urged all Michigan residents who have not been vaccinated for small pox within three years to do so at once.

MARSHALL AND STALIN CONFER

Meeting Of Ministers In Moscow Believed Doomed To Failure

BY WES GALLAGHER

Moscow, April 15 (AP)— Secretary of State George C. Marshall talked with Prime Minister Stalin for about 90 minutes behind the closed gates of the Kremlin tonight following what appeared to be a climax of failures to reach agreement in the foreign ministers council.

The American soldier secretary made his long-waited call on the Russian chief of state on the 37th day of his stay in the Soviet capital and apparently on short notice.

He disappeared behind the gates of the Kremlin at 8 p. m. (11 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) and an hour and 45 minutes later was back in Spasso House, his residence. American officials would not say how long the conversation lasted or what was discussed, or even when arrangements were made for the meeting.

It was evident, however, that Marshall had gone to the Kremlin in a last effort to salvage something from the foreign ministers conference and seek a solution to the gaping split between Russia and the western powers.

The call was made just after a meeting of the foreign ministers which failed completely to reach agreement on the American-proposed 40-year, four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed.

This failure was described by one high American source as "the most depressing development in international relations since the end of the war."

"The one thing we had in common was that we agreed Germany should be disarmed, but we cannot even agree how to write a treaty about it," he added.

First Bill Vetoed By Governor Sigler

Lansing, April 15. (AP)—Governor Sigler today vetoed a bill which would have permitted municipalities to sell tax reverted lands after being held for five years. It was his first veto.

Sigler said: "This act would defeat the general purpose of the state land office board act. Tax reverted lands should be returned to the tax rolls at the earliest possible date and sold at public sales, and the monies derived from such sale should be pro-rated among the local units * * *. Monies derived from sales of land in accordance with this proposed act would not be pro-rated to the several taxing units but retained by the holding municipalities."

PICKETING BAN APPROVED BY HOUSE, 53-38

FIGHT NOT OVER ON LABOR BILL AT LANSING

Lansing, April 15 (AP)—Ignoring warnings of both Republican and Democratic members that the Ferris anti-picketing bill would "widen the breach between management and labor, the House today passed the measure by a 53 to 38 vote and sent it to the Senate.

Rep. William Romano, Van Dyke Democrat, however, said "the fight is not over," adding he will submit the question of the constitutionality of the bill to Attorney General Eugene F. Black tomorrow.

Aimed At Goons

Introduced by the chairman of the labor committee, Rep. Chester A. Ferris, Detroit Republican, the bill would forbid picketing by others than employes of the establishment involved in the dispute.

Ferris called the bill, "a measure to outlaw the importation of goon squads."

Conceding that employes who might have been discharged over the dispute had the right to strike, Ferris proposed an amendment extending the right to those employed within 30 days of the start of picketing. The amendment was adopted.

Rep. Patrick J. Doyle, Dearborn Democrat, raising the question of constitutionality, unsuccessfully led a drive to defer consideration for two days until the attorney general could be consulted.

"This type of measure will not heal the sickening breach which is developing between management and labor," said Rep. Henry T. Gage, Detroit Republican, "but widen it."

"Legislation such as this is leading us down the road of punitive and vindictive legislation which I heard nothing about in the campaign," he declared.

Mandate From People

The campaign reference was to Rep. Charles R. Feenstra, Grand Rapids Republican, who had declared "the people gave us a mandate at the fall election for labor control legislation."

Reps. T. Jefferson Hoxie of St. Louis, L. Harvey Lodge, Clarence E. Hoffman of Detroit, joined the Republicans speaking with all five Democrats against the bill.

The House also passed a bill designed to permit large townships and those adjoining cities to operate with most of the advantage of city governments.

Introduced by Rep. Joseph F. Cihak, Jr., Muskegon Republican, the bill was approved unanimously and sent to the Senate.

The measure permits voters of eligible townships to organize under a model charter and provide for the appointment of a township superintendent, corresponding to the office of city manager.

The bill was the product of a committee appointed two years ago to suggest a solution for the governmental problems of large townships.

Advanced for a final vote tomorrow was a proposed constitutional amendment providing for succession to the governor's office both before and after inauguration. Succession is provided in this order: Lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer and auditor general.

At the same time, the House approved submission of an amendment to the voters which would permit the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of supreme court justices and circuit judges.

Scandal In New Car Distribution Stirs Up Automobile Club

Philadelphia, April 15 (AP)—"Immediate and decisive action" was asked today by the Keystone Automobile club to prevent spread of what it said "appears to be a national scandal involving the distribution of new cars."

President Maxwell Smith of the Philadelphia organization advised the Automobile Manufacturers Association that "literally millions of new-car hungry motorists are amazed, disturbed and disgusted by the spectacle of open-lot display of brand new cars—for immediate delivery—at prices ranging up to $1,000 in excess of legitimate dealer prices."

The club coupled its request to the AMA with a statement that dealer groups here and at Detroit are "trying to control the situation" by instituting a system of checking to assure legitimacy of transactions. It added widespread employment of this system would "measurably restore public confidence in the industry."

College AYD Is Mask For Communism, House Committee Concludes

Washington, April 15. (AP)—The House committee on un-American activities declared today that "the specter of Communism stalks our college campuses masked under the cloak of the American Youth for Democracy" and called upon state governors and school heads for a thorough expose of the organization.

The committee, in a lengthy blast against AYD, said that "gracing various AYD entertainments, meetings and campaigns, or contributing to its magazine, Spotlight, is the usual list of sponsors which are invariably found supporting the Communist party and its front organizations."

It said the list includes such names as Paul Robeson, Edward G. Robinson, Col. Evans F. Carlson, Zero Mostel, Lt. Comdr. Charles S. Seely, U. S. Navy (retired), and Joseph E. Davies.

The House group also urged a rigid investigation of "the inimical objectives of the Communist party in America."

In a report to the House, the committee said American Youth for Democracy has headquarters in New York City—formerly located at 13 Astor Place "in the same building with a number of other Communist - controlled organizations"—and claims 60 chapters in colleges in 14 states and a total membership of 16,194.

It is "neither American nor Democratic in its origin or purposes," the commitee said.

"Manipulated by shrewd and specially trained organizers operating in a narrow circle behind the scenes, it endeavors to exploit to the advantage of a foreign power the idealism, the inexperience, and the craving to join, which is so characteristic of our college youth.

"The Communist party should be exposed as an organization which is completely and uniformly subservient to the interests of the Soviet Union just as the German - American Bund was subservient to the interest of Nazi Germany.

"Members of the AYD should therefore be looked upon as "young Bundists" whose basic loyalty is not to the United States but to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

Tracing the origin of the AYD, the committee said that on Oct. 15, 1943, a special convention of the Young Communist league was held at Manhattan Center at Thirty-Fourth street and Eighth avenue, New York City, and at this convention "the Young Communist league officially transformed itself into the American Youth for Democracy."

RUSSIA BLAMED FOR DEADLOCK

Pact To Demilitarize Germany Sabotaged By Soviet Tactics

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Moscow, April 15 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall declared tonight that Russia had sabotaged enactment of any four - power pact to keep Germany demilitarized by attempting to insert "controversial matters" into the American version.

"This clear attempt to put in controversial matters in this way means no four-power treaty," Marshall told the council of foreign ministers at the conclusion of another fruitless session.

With the council apparently deadlocked hopelessly again, the secretary went to the Kremlin tonigh for a conference with Prime Minister Stalin.

Marshall made it plain to the council that he considered Russia to blame for the stalemate on the four-power accord. The ministers, finally giving up hope of reaching agreement, decided to proceed with the next item on their agenda—a coal report.

Unless one of the four powers brings up the demilitarization pact again, the proposed treaty will be dead insofar as this session of the council is concerned.

Both France and Britain supported Marshall's proposal to name plenipotentiaries to negotiate an accord along the lines of the 40-year demilitarization pact, originally drafted last year by Marshall's predecessor, James F. Byrnes.

Social Conditions Bad In Willow Run, Inhabited By 10,000

Lansing, April 15 (AP)—A State Youth guidance commission field worker will be sent to Willow Run, the war-boom community still inhabited by 10,000 persons, to assist residents in remedying reported "bad social conditions."

Walter S. Berry, commission secretary, said the commission had received a report from a five-member delegation from Willow Run describing a rise in "broken homes, illegitimacy, truancy and desertion."

Berry said the field worker would attempt to coordinate community programs and stimulate greater interest in them.

Price Reductions Tried By Business To Attract Buyers

New York, April 15. (AP)—A few new price reductions, led by one company's cut in anthracite quotations to dealers, broke through today's discussion of whether business could heed President Truman's plea to lower prices.

The Glen Alden Coal Co. at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., cut anthracite 20 to 45 cents a ton to retailers, who did not indicate immediately if they would pass the savings on to consumers.

E. W. Edwards & Son cut prices in its department stores in Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, New York, "convinced that the public has stopped buying and that, to avert a depression, business generally must make price cuts."

A New York department store, Saks, Fifth Avenue, cut nylon stockings 30 cents a pair.

New York hardware merchants said wholesale prices on some standard items, such as gardening tools, have dropped about 10 per cent, and are in much better supply.

New Michigan Road Maps Out By May 1

Lansing, April 15 (AP) — Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today that the State Highway department's road maps of Michigan will be released about May 1.

The department's public relations division at Lansing will acknowledge requests for copies, Ziegler said.

Union Spurns Plan To End Phone Strike

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The cross - country telephone strike rolled on unchanged tonight, with outright rejection by the union of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach's peace plan and company proposals to modify it in 13 ways.

Schwellenbach told reporters that neither side is showing "any recognition of the public responsibility they have."

The secretary had come up with an idea by which the strike might be ended late Thursday. Under his plan, both sides would agree to (1) arbitration of basic money issues by a five man board, and (2) intensive negotiations to settle other issues so that telephone service could be resumed on a normal basis.

Tonight, as Schwellenbach put it:

1. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company declined nation-wide arbitration on the grounds that it is regulated in each state, but failed "to recognize that the reason it is regulated is that it has a monopoly."

2. "The union on the other side takes the position that the proposal it made in the beginning has to be accepted, or else the strike will go on."

The major modification proposed by the Bell System companies was that 10 regional arbitration boards be substituted for the single board Schwellenbach asked.

C. F. Craig, vice president of the A. T. & T., wrote Schwellenbach that "in the companies' view it would be impossible for a single arbitration board to hear, properly consider and decide all these cases (45) within any period less than six to 12 months."

The union, in a letter to Schwellenbach from J. A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, asked "a general wage increase as a down payment in recognition of the increase in the cost of living."

"Any proposal to terminate the strike must include a general wage offer and retroactivity," it said.

CURB ON ARMS EXPORTS ASKED

Truman Wants Revision Of Neutrality Act To Check War Makers

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, April 15 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for revision of the neutrality act to empower the Government to ban arms shipments destined for any international "troublemaker."

He said in a special message that the Government must be free to act "in accordance with our position in the United Nations" and to adapt the export of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

In effect, he was asking continuance of authority the Government already has. Power to permit or deny arms exports in contained in the 1940 export control act, which is due to expire June 30.

Mr. Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act, an older statute, be rewritten to incorporate the expiring authority and also to set up a "more flexible and efficient" administration by the existing National Munitions control board.

Unless the neutrality act is revised, the President said, the secretary of state will again as before 1940 be required to "treat aggressor and aggrieved, peacemaker and troublemaker equally" by granting all requests for arms exports except where such shipments would violate a treaty.

Security Measures Tightened Against Jews In Palestine

Jerusalem, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—Military and police units in a pre-dawn sweep clamped a rigid security ring today on most of the Jewish quarters of Palestine, putting an estimated 400,000 Jews under house arrest.

Armored cars with loud speakers awoke sleeping Jews in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, parts of Haifa and a number of other towns and villages to announce the new curfew. Cars attempting to leave Jerusalem and Tel Aviv were turned back.

The security measures were the most rigid ever imposed by the British in Palestine.

Authorities flatly declined to give a reason for the operations except to state officially that "new military security measures have been deemed necessary."

ROUND WORLD FLIGHT SETS NEW RECORD

CHICAGO PEN MAKER CLIPS 12 HOURS OFF 1938 TIME

New York, April 16 (Wednesday) (AP)—The Reynolds globe-circling "Bombshell" streaked across La Guardia Field at 12:06:30 a. m. (EST) today and two minutes later set its nose down on the runway for a new unofficial record of 78 hours and 55 minutes.

Piloted by youthful William Odom, veteran of Burma Hump flying and owned by Milton Reynolds, 54-year old Chicago pen manufacturer, the converted A-26 attack bomber sliced Howard Hughes' previous unofficial record by 12 hours and 29 minutes.

Hughes had set the record in 1938 with a monoplane. His record was 91 hours and 14 minutes.

Smeared With Kisses

When Reynolds left La Guardia Field at 5:11 p. m. (EST) last Saturday, he said he hoped to complete the world-circling flight in 55 to 60 hours. But minor mechanical difficulties and extra halts along the houte made that goal unattainable.

As Reynolds, Odom, and the third crewman, T. C. Sallee, flight engineer, stepped from the cockpit of the plane onto the right ring, crowds at the field broke through police lines to greet the fliers.

All three were taken up in the crowd and smeared with kisses from the feminine well-wishers before the way could be cleared for a reunion by Reynolds and his wife Edna, Adom and his wife, and Sallee and his bride-to-be, 19-year-old Patricia Houlihan of Cody, Wyo.

Finally free of the mob, the men posed for pictures. Reynolds appeared newly-shaved, but Sallee and Odom, 28, were bearded. They were haggard but happy.

Just "Routine" Flight

A friend stepped up to Reynolds and asked:

"Here's your wife. Don't you remember her?"

Reynolds quickly kissed her, then flung his arms around Odom and told newsmen:

"He is the best pilot in the world. We would not have made it with anyone else."

But Odom shook off the praise, interrupting Reynolds to say:

"No, none of that. It was just a routine flight that all airlines will be making in a few years."

The route followed by the "Bombshell" was about 5,200 miles longer than Hughes' path. Hughes flew over European Russia and Siberia but the Soviet Union declined to permit Reynolds to use a similar route, explaining that its reconstruction problems were so great it did not have the technicians to service the flight.

The record--setting plane made nine stops, three more than originally planned. The extra halts and minor mechanical difficulties made its original goal of 55 hours unattainable.

Stops were made at Gander, Nfld.; Paris; Cairo; Karachi; Calcutta; Shanghai; Tokyo; Adak, Alaska; and Edmonton.

Pilot Delirious

The longest hops were between Gander and Paris, and Adak and Edmonton, each spanning about 2,620 miles. One of the most difficult legs was between Calcutta and Shanghai. On this flight the plane had to climb to 19,000 feet to get over the Burma Hump in the Himalyas. Reynolds in Tokyo

BIG SMELT RUN MAY BE NEAR

1,200 Pounds Taken From Rivers In Escanaba Area

A sizeable smelt run of prewar proportions appeared probable in the Escanaba area in the next few days as the result of recent catches in the Escanaba, Bark, Ford and Days rivers, conservation officers of the district office here reported yesterday.

The smelt were running in those rivers Monday night and some were taken also at Squaw creek. Although not accompanied by the hullabaloo which regularly marked the smelt festivals in Escanaba before the war, smelt have been taken the last few days, and many smelt fishermen are on hand to "bag" them when the run is at its height.

Hansen and Jensen, commercial fishermen, reported buying 1,200 pounds of smelt taken from rivers in the Escanaba area. Previous large dips this season were 500 pounds and 1,000 pounds, but this take was from Bay de Noc when ice still covered the bay.

That a take as large as 1,200 pounds was made from rivers indicates the height of the smelt run may be near, conservation officers pointed out.

The next few days will tell the tale.

HOOP "PLATES"

In 1800, dishes were an almost unknown luxury in Newfoundland. Ten-inch iron hoops were fastened to the tables in public restaurants and the food placed within the hoops.

Fire, Rescue All In Day's Work For Crew Of Ship On Which Escanaban Serves

Members of the crew of the U. S. S. Eldorado, U. S. Navy amphibious command ship, on which Machinist's Mate, third class, Robert Cornelius Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, 1417 North 22nd street, Escanaba, is serving, have had some precarious experiences at sea recently.

Robert, who enlisted in the Navy for four years after graduating from Escanaba high school in 1945, writes that the ship has arrived safely at Hsingtoo, China, but not without its share of experiences that go to make life at sea rigorous and exciting.

Fell Three Decks

In a recent letter to his parents he included excerpts from a shipboard publication, which told of two harrowing mishaps, five aboard ship and a rescue at sea.

When fire broke out on the Eldorado, an electrician fell three decks and landed on a ship's officer. Both were injured, but fortunately not seriously, and were taken to San Diego, Calif., for medical treatment after being at sea seven days since the time of the mishap, Robert wrote.

The men were exteremely fortunate not to be injured more seriously, it was reported. One suffered a fractured vertabra and three cracked ribs, and the other is up and around again with only a minor kidney injury.

All of which rates as a near miracle, particularly for the young man who fell three decks. Had he struck the open deck instead of the officer, he undoubtedly would have been seriously injured.

A seaman might suggest this moral: When you fall three decks, be sure you fall on an officer.

A seven-man lifeboat crew of the Eldorado figured in the rescue of 22 crewmen from the aft section of the broken tanker, Fort Dearborn, which cracked in two 1,100 miles northwest of Hawaii, the ship bulletin reported.

Narrow Escape

Before the Eldorado rescue crew arrived on the scene, the Fort Dearborn seamen had "sweated out" esix perilous days aboard the wave-beaten stern of the broken ship. They were taken off safely.

Oddly enough, the Eldorado and another rescue ship shepherded the broken hulk several days before a rescue could be made. Heavy seas and gale winds reaching 60-knot velocity prevented an earlier rescue, and during this time watertight bulkheads sealing the broken end of the section were weakening under the hammering of the sea.

The men were taken to Pearl Harbor.

Ten other members of the Fort Dearborn crew were rescued from the foundering bow section of the ship by a lifeboat crew from the American president liner Gen. W. W. Gordon, and an air search was underway from Oahu to locate 13 men adrift in a Dearborn lifeboat.

Such is the life of a sailor, Robert might well have commented.

Dr. Hartwell To Speak Here Monday On Mental Hygiene

Samuel W. Hartwell, M. D., assistant director, Michigan Department of Mental Health, division of mental hygiene, will come to Escanaba on Monday, April 21, to address several groups on the subject of mental hygiene.

The general theme of Dr. Hartwell's talks and discussions during the day will be the mental hygiene approach to the problems of childhood. He comes to Escanaba under the joint sponsorship of the Delta County Youth Guidance Council, the Escanaba Parent-Teachers association, and the Rotary club of Escaanba.

At noon, Dr. Hartwell will address a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, after which he will meet with the youth service committee of the Rotary club. At 5:15 p. m. he will give a fifteen minute radio talk from WDBC. That evening at 8:00 p. m. he will deliver an address at a public meeting at the Junior High school.

Dr. Hartwell's objective is to interest this community in the general subject of mental hygiene. He is especially desirous of stimulating local interest in the employment of a psychiatric social worker for Delta county. This person, if employed, would work in conjunction with the Child Guidance Center in Marquette.

Playing cards made from cellulose nitrate sheets are being manufactured —they will outlast 50 decks of ordinary cards.

Supervisors Ask That Joe Heirman Succeed Wenner

The Delta county board of supervisors in meeting yesterday requested Michigan State College extension service appoint Joseph L. Heirman, Manistique, as Delta county agricultural agent to succeed E. A. Wenner, who has been promoted to a new position in Lower Michigan.

Heirman is Schoolcraft county agricultural agent, and is a former resident of Delta county. The agricultural committee of the county board yesterday conferred with J. G. Wells, jr., Chatham, before announcing its recommendation of Heirman.

The county board also adopted a report of the agricultural committee asking that Wenner be permitted to stay in Delta county until June 1, the date when Heirman might be available to come here. It was previously announced that Wenner was to leave this county for Lower Michigan on May 1, which would leave the county without the services of a county farm agent for one month.

FIRE TOWERS BEING MANNED

Brush, Grass Burning Permit Necessary, Officers Report

Signalling the start of the fire season in the Escanaba area when all persons must be on the lookout for fires and practice safety measures when in the woods, driving along the highways or burning brush or refuse on farms and in yards, fire towers are now being manned in this district, conservation officers of the Escanaba office reported yesterday.

This is the time of the year when all persons should exercise great caution to prevent waste of the area's natural resources and property damage, it was emphasized.

The woods are drying up rapidly, and many residents are beginning to burn brush, grass and refuse that has collected during the long winter months.

It is now necessary to obtain a permit before burning brush or grass, conservation officers stressed.

We're Trying to Handle
EMERGENCY CALLS
During the Telephone Strike . . .
But we must have your co-operation

Before you attempt to place either a Local or Long Distance call, please stop and ask yourself—

IS IT AN EMERGENCY?

DOES THE CALL INVOLVE: FIRE? POLICE? SICKNESS? INJURY? DEATH? LOSS OF PROPERTY?

If it does, your call is an EMERGENCY call and you have reason to attempt to place it. And our limited forces will do their best to handle it.

If your call does NOT involve an emergency, please do NOT attempt to place it.

With only a few people available to man the switchboards during the strike, we must devote our efforts to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY. It is necessary for us to answer all signals on the switchboards to determine which are emergency calls. So it is imperative that you limit your calls to EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY.

Even so, there still remains the risk that some emergency calls will go unhandled because we just do not have enough people.

Michigan Bell deeply regrets the need for this urgent appeal for your co-operation. We are still trying to settle the strike. Meanwhile, we are doing our best to handle emergency calls. Please help us . . .

No Basis For Indictment

THE congressional demand for criminal prosecution of Henry Wallace because Wallace has been making speches abroad in opposition to American foreign policy is extremely ill-advised.

It would take some stretching of the Logan act to convict Wallace of traitorous conduct. The Logan act, which is used as a basis for demands for indicting the former vice president, provides a penalty of three years in jail and $5,000 fine for a American citizen who deals with a foreign government to defeat an American legislative measure.

The act certainly was never intended to deny any American citizen the right to speak his mind openly and freely, whether in the United States or abroad. If the act was so intended, it obviously is unconstitutional, abridging as it would the time-honored privilege of freedom of speech.

As much as we oppose the thinking of Henry Wallace and what he stands for, those who sincerely cherish the principles of American fredom should be the first to stand up and defend Wallace's right to say what he thinks—in America, in England, or in Timbuctoo.

That Wallace is off on a crazy venture is besides the point. He can best be handled by American denunciation so that the people to whom he speaks in other lands will know that Henry Wallace does not speak the mind of the American people.

We who accuse Russia—and rightly so—of suppressing the rights of the individual will be playing directly into the Russian hand if we attempt to suppress the right of Henry Wallace, or any American, to exercise the privileges of free speech guaranteed by the American constitution.

National Monopolies

THE telephone strike, now in its tenth day, undoubtedly could have been settled long ago if the American Telephone and Telegraph company would have agreed to discuss the issues on a national basis. The company, however, has consistently demanded that negotiations be conducted on a basis of local bargaining and has demanded that the AT&T establish a pattern for the entire industry.

Thus, fundamentally, the principal stumbling block to settlement of the nationwide phone strike has been the issue of recognition of a nationwide telephone workers union.

In the pattern of nationwide strikes that have throttled the United States so frequently during the past year and a half, it has become apparent that industry wide strikes conducted on a national basis are paralyzing to the nation's economy. Nation-wide unions, thus, with power invested in the hands of a few, obtain the authority to choke the entire country at will. It is a situation that is wrong and one that must be corrected for the good of the whole nation.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company, however, also operates a virtual monopoly, controlling as it does about 75 per cent or more of the nation's telephone service and just about all of the nation's telegraph service. In addition, AT&T owns or controls many of its supplier companies.

Obviously, it is in recognition of this nationwide monopoly that the telephone workers have sought to organize a union monopoly.

From the public standpoint, national monopolies are bad, whether they stem from capital or from labor. The only redeeming feature of the AT&T monopoly is that it does not possess the power to fix its rates, which are subject to governmental authorization.

Sound Advice

H. J. WYNGARDEN, Michigan State college economist, has given some sound advice to Michigan veterans who will receive up to $500 in state bonus money. Wyngarden suggested that the veterans hang on to their money until the general level of commodity prices drops.

Prices of most commodities today are inflated. It is true particularly with homes and other real estate, and veterans who invest at high prices will not get as much for their money as they will later when the inevitable downward trend arrives.

With more than $200,000,000 in loose money available through the state bonus distribution, racketeers and chiselers will be on the prowl more vigorously than ever before. Veterans will be wise to use extreme caution in their business dealings, particularly with strangers.

The best advice, as Prof. Wyngarden suggest, is to put the bonus money in the bank or in government bonds and to sit tight until a semblance of sanity returns to the commodity markets.

New Prison Scandal?

GOVERNOR SIGLER has ordered a study of alleged irregularities in the state corrections department and the parole board, giving rise to suspicion that the 1945 housecleaning in Michigan's penal system failed to correct the outrageous abuses that existed at that time.

The exact charges made against the state's penal officers have not yet been disclosed, but apparently they are of a serious nature. In any case, the situation calls for an extensive investigation so that the public may learn just what has been going on. If there has been criminal misconduct by anyone connected with the state prisons or the state parole board, it should be exposed and those involved vigorously prosecuted.

The Southern Michigan prison at Jackson, one of the world's largest penal institutions, has been a sore spot in Michigan penal administration for years.

Let's have all the facts, and the sooner the better.

Other Editorial Comments

HIGHER PAY AND LOWER PRICES?

(Duluth News-Tribune)

During the depression labor and management usually recognized, in their wage negotiations, that the possible income of a company was limited by several powerful factors. The negotiations developed, then, into a debate as to how that income was to be divided between labor, other operating costs, and management. The public did not feel too greatly concerned in the outcome of the negotiations, since it knew that competition would keep prices down and quality up, however the struggle was decided.

In recent years all this has been changed. It has been possible for management in many industries to give labor the pay raises it demands, and then to increase prices enough to meet those raises and also to provide a satisfactory margin of profit.

This doesn't seem too bad for the workers so benefited, and for the stockholders who get the dividends. Even for them, though, it is not a lasting solution. If prices are going to go up each year, the unions are going to be around with more demands for pay increases and the time is going to come when the market just won't stand for more price increases.

It is hard for the participants in this rising spiral to realize that a great many of their fellow-Americans are enjoying no such increase in income, that the wage-price game as it has been played here is wrecking the living standards of those people just as relentlessly as the depression wrecked the living standards of many Americans.

The administration has been warning that high prices are a threat to our national well-being. There are reports, however, that some of its advisers are suggesting that one last round of wage increases might be possible, also.

It might help if the administration talked to some ordinary working men and their wives. None of them is opposed to higher wages, of course, but their real interest is in lower prices. There are very few American workers who feel pleased with what this price-wage spiral has done for them and to them.

Pay should be evened up with living costs as much as possible, but the surest, fairest, most pleasing way to do that would be to bring down living costs for all of us—not quickly, necessarily, but surely and steadily. A rational adjustment of that kind would return a sense of security and satisfaction to millions of homes, encourage saving and take much of the bitterness out of the economic debates of today.

That is not going to be easy to achieve, though. It will be impossible to achieve if the administration chooses to tell the people that they can all have pay boosts and lower prices, too.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

Q. Why is the bandanna handkerchief so called?—Mrs. C. H. F.

Answer: Bandanna is an English corruption of the Hindi word bandhnu, which Shakespeare's Hindi dictionary defines as, "A mode of dyeing in which the cloth is tied in different places, to prevent the parts tied from receiving the dye... a kind of silk cloth." Of course the bandanna as we know it is a large cotton handkerchief with a garish printed design in either red or blue.

Richland: The late Franklin D. Roosevelt was given credit for coining the word "boondoggle." He used it in several radio addresses. Did he invent it?—H. L. H.

Answer: F. D. R. did popularize the verb to boondoggle, in the meaning of "to invent trifling and wasteful work for the unemployed." But the word is credited to Robert H. Link, a scoutmaster of Rochester, N. Y., who coined the word in 1925, as the name of a plaited leather lanyard to be worn by scouts as a neckerchief slide; hence, any handicraft article of little or no practical value.

Cincinnati: Can you trace the origin of the word to tout, as, "He is not all that he is touted to be."—N. L. S.

Answer: Orginally, the verb tout meant to act as lookout for a gang of thieves. Then the word came to designate the spying on the secret performance of race horses in order to obtain information for betting. Later, to tout was to give a tip on a horse race in return for a portion of the winnings. Such a tipster also became known as a tout.

Then, by extension, the noun came to mean any petty solicitor or runner, as "A small fat person who looked like a lawyer's tout." —Kipling's "Kim."

Finally, the verb to tout took on the meaning of, "to praise highly and insistently," as, "You're always touting these Greek dancers"—Sinclair Lewis's "Main Street."

And now we say that a politician is touted as the friend of labor; that Senator Blank's proposed bill is being touted as a preventive of depressions; that a certain person is not all he is touted to be, etc.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washngton—The Senate committee investigating the Centralia mine disaster is doing a thorough, conscientious job. Anyone who hoped or believed that the committee would yield to political pressures will be disappointed.

Childs

When the final report is drafted, it is fairly certain to include a strong recommendation for a new law authorizing federal enforcement of mine safety measures. Under the present federal inspection law passed in 1941, coal mine inspectors can merely inspect and recommend. The Krug-Lewis agreement provides a limited enforcement power which ends when the coal mines revert to private ownership on June 30.

Under the chairmanship of Senator Guy Cordon of Oregon, the committee went to Centralia and explored the tragic failure of the State of Illinois to enforce safety laws. The picture was a pretty devastating one. It showed how the long arm of politics had reached out to interfere with the state inspection and enforcement service.

—MINE OWNERS OPPOSED—

There will be powerful opposition to a federal safety law with teeth in it. Many leading coal operators protested against the mild inspection law of 1941 and they can be expected to oppose a law to enforce federal regulations.

On January 8, five days after the new Congress met, Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia put in a bill which would give federal inspectors the right to close down a mine in which they found "an unsafe or unhealthy condition." There is some background that points up this move. Up for re-election last fall, Kilgore was the target of a vicious attack from John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' chieftain, who sought to defeat him by accusing him of being the tool of the CIO. Kilgore won by a very small margin.

Enforcement of a federal safety law would take 230 inspectors in addition to the present force of 180. The additional estimated cost would be $2,970,000. With the augmented force all coal miners could be inspected three times a year. At present, only mines employing more than 25 men are inspected on the average twice a year.

Mine operators made known their opposition as soon as Kilgore introduced his bill. A prominent coal operator, one of Kilgore's constituents in West Virginia, wrote:

"There is not only no necessity for federal mine inspectors acquiring police powers, but that would be in conflict with the province of the West Virginia Department of Mines and its inspectors who have this authority now. The confusion would be unbounded because we already have the company's own inspectors who are most efficient. Many of our people feel that the United States Bureau of Mines is extravagantly expensive already."

—NO GUARANTEE OF SAFETY—

Federal inspection would naturally be uniform throughout the United States. On a civil service basis, it would be far less subject to local pressures than the state inspection services.

It means, of course, more federal bureaucracy—the extension of control of the central government. This is abhorrent to Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, a member of the investigating committee, who has long crusaded against the deepening shadow of big business and big government. Yet sadly and reluctantly O'Mahoney will vote for a federal control measure when it comes before the Senate, since it seems to be the only way to check accidents in the mines.

One thing the Cordon committee learned was that there is no absolute guarantee of safety in an inspection system. A mine pronounced safe on one day can become dangerous the following day through the accumulation of excessive amounts of dust.

It is here that the importance of union cooperation comes in. Under the Krug-Lewis agreement now in force, the local union has the power to close down a mine considered dangerous. That power was exercised in only two instances prior to the Centralia disaster. As Secretary Krug testified before the committee, only 31 complaints came in from the union on all he 2300 mines being operated by the government.

If Lewis would stop playing politics, a reasonable agreement could be worked out at least for the duration of government operation. The present safety strike plus a penalty on all miners and on all of industry. Even more important, it is doubtful if it contributes to what would be the goal of everyone concerned: The greatest possible degree of safety in what is inevitably a hazardous occupation.

Royalty Seems to Be on the Spot

Good Morning!

AUTHORITY—The Hon. Chase S. Osborn, former governor of Michigan, who spends his summers at Duck Island near Sault Ste. Marie, and his winters in Poulan, Ga., knows more about the American Indian as typified in Longfellow's "Hiawatha" than any other living American. It is natural, therefore, that in planning the 1947 Hiawathaland Festival to be held in Escanaba the July 4th week end, that Mr. Osborn should be consulted.

Dunathan

Michigan has claimed Chase S. Osborn as its own since 1887 when he became owner of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News. Although he was born in Huntington, Ind. and in his early life worked as a reporter and a publisher for newspapers in Wisconsin, Mr. Osborn counts Michigan his "home". Now 87 years old, his active mind amazes those who know him, and the latest evidence of an always-energetic character is the recently published book "Schoolcraft-Longfellow-Hiawatha" authored by Osborn and his adopted daughter, Stellanova Osborn.

SUGGESTIONS—In response to a letter from Bill Duchaine, general chairman of the Hiawathaland Festival, Mr. Osborn wrote in reply:

"Escanaba is to be applauded for its enterprise in launching a Hiawathaland Festival. I wish you and your committee and all concerned a rousing success. I am glad to jot down a few ideas as they occur, some of which may point in helpful directions.

"It would help in more ways than one if you could get the Indians themselves interested. The wise thing is to help them show what good Americans they are, as well as exhibit the fascinations of their native traditions. You might persuade local merchants to offer prizes for various Indian skills: modern as well as ancient.

"The most dramatic would be a prize for a Chippewa Indian costume; paralleled by a prize for Chippewa skill in modern dress-making. Please always endeavor to bring out the Indian as a progressive citizen, as well as the inheritor of a colorful background.

"Before I forget it, it could be possible for white citizens as well as Indians to don Indian costume; just as Dutch costumes are undoubtedly worn by other than Hollanders at Holland during their festival. This would add to the frolic atmosphere and perhaps tend to make the Indians less conscious of being museum pieces?"

INDIAN DANCES—"You might offer a prize for the best Indian dancing." (Mr. Osborn suggests enlisting the aid of Indian authorities at L'Anse for this purpose."

"You might offer a number of readings, at the Library or High school, by local teachers, of the original stories that went into Hiawatha, together with Longfellow's version of the same. 'Hiawatha's Fishing' is particularly entertaining. A few other legends from Schoolcraft's 'Algic Researche's,' not popularly known, could be read also.

BIRD LORE—" 'Then the little Hitwatha learned of every bird its language' ..... Why not have a Hiawatha Bird Hunt, with a bird-man to tell interesting things as well as identify the birds seen? Would it be practicable to develop some outdoor spot as an outdoor laboratory, where birds and animals could be baited into presenting themselves if only for a glimpse? Groups should not be too large. Individuals could be encouraged by inviting their questions. Picnic provisions along the trail somewhere might be considered, where there could be a stop for a box lunch. One day the party could be led by a botanist; another by a biologist; again by a forester; even by a mineralogist or geologist."

FROM THE CLASSIC—"You might offer a prize for the best verse and story on an Indian subject, by anyone; a prize for the best story or verse on any subject written by an Indian; a prize for the most effective reading of a section of Longfellow's 'Hiawatha.'

"We know that you have seen our 'Schoolcraft-Longfellow-Hiawatha.' If you wished to give copies as prizes for some things, or to make a special sale of them as part of the Hiawathaland Festival, we could arrange for you to secure these big $5 books at a specially attractive price."

INDIAN MUSIC—"Your high school orchestra, in connection with the pageant, or as a separate performance, could give an Indian musicale. There are two or three pieces of high grade based on the Hiawatha cycle, by Coleridge Taylor.

Again with reference to Indian music: there is a young man, from the Canadian Sault country, of French and Indian extraction—Laderoute?—who has recently gained national recognition as a singer. He might give a concert, on reasonable terms, if it were represented to him that his appearance would be an example of the contribution of the Indian race to modern American culture."

THE INDIAN'S FRIEND—So ends the letter from a man who has been a lifelong friend of the American Indian, and a diligent collector and interpreter of their legends. His name now ranks with that of Schoolcraft and Longfellow. Writing of Osborn in Collier's magazine in 1931, James Derieux declared:

"He can dance the Indian dances and yell the Indian yells."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—To those who sat backstage in the telephone negotiations, the the strike—grim as it was—had interludes of comedy.

Pearson

Early one morning, while Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson was closeted with the management moguls in the Labor Department, the phone jangled in an anteroom, and a voice demanded:

"Is Jack there?"

"Jack who?" Asked Gibson, thinking the call might be for himself.

"I want to talk to Jack," persisted the caller. "Tell him the big apple is calling."

The Assistant Labor Secretary turned to the negotiations and inquired if anyone named "Jack" was present.

"That's me," responded George S. Dring Assistant Vice President of the Telephone Company. "I mean it's my code name. We have code names for most everybody here. The "Big Apple' is our boss, C. F. Craig vice president and leading A. T. and T. negotiator). We even have a name for your Mr. Warren. He's the 'Eager Beaver.' "

—TRUMAN ON STUMP—

White House advisers are now convinced that the President should make a series of public appearances west of the Mississippi river next summer. Truman, himself, has agreed to the plan.

Soon after Congress adjourns, therefore, he will hit the trail— probably by train rather than by plane—and touch every state in the northwest before he's through.

This important political decision is the result of a candid survey of Democratic prospects now being completed by close political advisers. While pleased with Truman's current national popularity, they are not certain about how many voters are actually Pro-Truman. They wonder how many of those who tell the pollsters they like the way Truman is handling himself, will finally vote for him.

Democrat leaders also admit in private that Truman's prospects in the big Eastern States are dim. They see little hope of capturing such potent states as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. Without these big five, Truman will have to score a clean sweep west of the Mississippi. That's why plans are being laid for a western trip this summer.

—REPUBLICANS WORK SECRETLY—

Plenty of fireworks exploded inside the House Labor committee before it approved the tough labor-control bill last week end. Husky, redheaded Ray Madden of Indiana, Democrat, set off most of the fireworks with a protest against being excluded from secret meetings while Republican colleagues whipped the labor bill into shape.

The Indiana Congressman charged that he hadn't been shown a copy of the labor bill until "two hours" before Chairman Fred Hartley of New Jersey called the closed-door meeting to vote on it.

"Are we operating under the two-party system or aren't we?" exploded Madden. "This is the first time in my experience that a committee chairman has held meetings on legislation without both sides being present.

"Hearings were completed two weeks ago, but not until now—when he wants to get a vote—has the chairman condescended to call in Democrats. We had no hand in writing this bill. All we knew was what we read in the newspapers. And you expect us to vote—and vote intelligently — before we've hardly had a chance to read the bill!"

"I don't know whether the chairman deliberately wanted to be unfair, But I don't like these tactics. Here's a bill that affects the lives of 30 million wage earners and their families, and you want us to vote on it on two hours' notice. Maybe you gentlemen can vote intelligently. I can't."

Hartley flushed during the scolding, but made no reply. Finally GOP Representative Ralph W. Gwinn of New York supported Madden. "The gentleman is right," he said, "in wanting more time to study the bill."

Despite this, the GOP majority decided to push the bill through immediately.

—BRITAIN USES VETO—

Those behind the diplomatic scenes sometimes wonder whether Moscow's diplomats are really vicious or just plain stupid. Every time Molotov or Gromyko opens his mouth he puts his foot in it — as far as U. S. public opinion is concerned. Not so the British. They frequently oppose the United States—but so skillfully it gets no attention.

The United Nations general assembly will soon hold a special session on Palestine. What most people don't realize is that this special session will cost approximately a million dollars of the U. N.'s meagre purse. The U. N. has a smaller budget than the New York City street cleaning department.

Another point people don't realize is that Britain inserted in its U. N resolution a tricky five-word clause saying that the British government "reserves the right to reject" the U. N. decision, in other words, the United Nations can spend $1,000,000 debating Palestine but if the final decision doesn't coincide with British wishes, the British, like the Russians, won't play ball.

An Ohio judge barred children from his divorce court because he thought it gave them a poor outlook on life. Perhaps some of the kids shouldn't be allowed to go home.

Sent on an errand five years ago, a Pennsylvania man just returned to his wife. Probably stopped to play chess on the way.

APPROVE COURT HOUSE ADDITION

C&S Construction Co. Bid Of $11,886.82 Is Okayed By Board

Construction of an addition to the register of deeds office at the court house in Escanaba was approved yesterday by the county board of supervisors, who also accepted the lowest of two bids for the work and will enter into a contract for the completion of the job this summer.

The county will enter into a contract with the C. & S. Construction company of Escanaba for the construction of the addition on the basis of the company's bid of $11,886.82. One other bid was received for $18,570, and there was a separate proposal for the electrical work only.

The proposed addition will be built on the north side of the court house, and will provide vault and office space for the overcrowded register of deeds office. J. Theodore Ohlen, county clerk and register of deeds, advised the supervisors that "an emergency exists in the protection of the records in the register of deeds office."

Both the buildings and grounds committee and the finance committee of the county board recommended construction of the addition.

Other business before the county board yesterday included:

Approval of a purchasing committee report that a new car had been bought for the sheriff's department as authorized at a previous meeting. The cost was $1,902 for the new car, less $900 trade in credit on the old auto.

Heard a report from Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle, who had been requested to give the board an opinion on the supervisors' authority over the county treasurer. Last fall the board's labor relations committee reported that the treasurer was present in his office only part time. The prosecutor advised the board that it does not have authority under the statutes to either remove the treasurer or to fill any vacancy that might occur. Removal would be possible only through the circulating of a recall petition by the people of the county, he said in response to a question.

Adopted a resolution urging the State highway department to improve M-35 between Ford River and the Delta-Menominee county line, starting this year.

Adopted resolutions asking the Legislature to change a State law and permit the charge of a higher fee for certain public work done by the county clerk and register of deeds offices; and a resolution opposing the proposal to have the State take 2 mills of the 15-mill levy for State revenue.

Adopted an equalization report submitted by the special equalization committee of the county board, with the reservation that the report must first prove satisfactory to the newly elected supervisors. The committee will meet with the new supervisors at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the court house to acquaint the supervisors with the work that has been done.

THERE'S A FEUD ABOUT THE FOOD

Schoolcraft Ct. Women Resent Delta Claims To Best Cooking

Schoolcraft county housewives this week are expressing their resentment toward a claim made recently that "Delta county is the county of better cooks".

The Dela county statement is a rash one, according to several housewives in the Manistique area, and it strikes a tender spot in the culinary tradition of Schoolcraft county. Already famous recipes from Manistique are coming in, and a deluge is expected this week. (One is being printed today in this ad).

As one Schoolcraft county housewife puts it: "We know we have better recipes in our files than you have in Delta county and we just want a chance to prove it."

Northwest Fruit Company, sponsoring the recipe campaign, has shown its willingness to publish both sides of the story. In fact, they have agreed to send a fine gift to any woman whose recipe is published in their weekly ad.

RED CROSS DRIVE LAGS

County Below Quota In Campaign For Funds

Munising— The American Red Cross fund raising campaign currently being conducted in the county will end May 1, George Goss, newly elected chairman of the Alger county Red Cross chapter, said yesterday.

To date, he said, collections in this area are far below the county's quota of over $3,000. Solicitations for funds by letter and personal contact will continue with the hope that between now and the end of the campaign the county will reach its quota. Other counties in the peninsula have already exceeded their set quotas, Mr. Goss remarked.

In order that the local chapter may attain the required amount of money, it will be necessary for everyone to give as much as possible, the chairman said. He requested that those who have not donated send in their contributions now.

Contributions may be mailed to Frank Fleming, local chapter treasurer or to George Goss, chapter chairman, at the Munising MSES office.

School Science Department To Make Soil Tests

Munising— Munising gardeners desiring to have their garden soil tested before spring planting may send samples to the Mather high school science department, William DeBruyn, biology instructor, announced yesterday.

The science department recently acquired a soil testing kit to handle tests for nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, the three essential soil elements. In addition, the kit makes possible the testing of soil for soil acidity, he said.

Persons desiring the test are asked to bring their composite samples to Room 215 of the high school. Samples should be taken in the following manner to insure an accurate test, DeBruyn said: "With a large spoon, make 10 or 12 holes two inches deep over the area to be utilized; With the spoon, scrape a little soil from each hole, starting at the bottom and coming to the top; Mix all scrapings thoroughly together and bring a minimum of one tablespoon of the composite sample to be tested."

The results of the test will normally require from one week to 10 days, depending upon the number of samples to be tested, DeBruyn stated. Results will be given to the respective gardeners with fertilizer recommendations. There is no charge.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

Before Your Time

Immense ingenuity has been spent by writers in trying to dissuade motorists from killing themselves in automobile accidents and it must be admitted that some of the better writings on motor safety have attracted wide attention among motorists. Apparently they read these pieces for their literary style rather than their content, since they never seem to do any good.

The most spectacular appeal to common-sense driving in all history was certainly the article"—And Sudden Death" in "The Reader's Digest" (August, 1935). This gory bit of realism, probably the most widely read magazine article of all time, reached not only "The Digest's" vast circulation but was also reprinted—in many cases on page one—in thousands of newspapers, weeklies, periodicals, and house organs. It was read on several radio programs and 4,000,000 reprints were distributed by various organizations. It's a fairly safe assumption that every one in America who could read, certainly every one who could drive, was exposed to that article at some time or other.

The charm of "—And Sudden Death"—let's be honest now—lay in its matter-of-fact gore rather than in its sound advice. It presented the mangling of the human body scientifically rather than sentimentally; people read it with what might be described as horrified relish, and kept right on killing each other. The year after it was printed, 1,720 more persons were killed in automobile accidents than in the preceding year.

The subject seems to bring out more skill in the writers than in the drivers. As a sort of radio companion piece to "—And Sudden Death," C. B. S. presented last January an imaginative and brilliantly produced broadcast entitled "Before Their Time." Where the magazine article employed realism, the radio program substituted irony. Parts of it were even comic in a grim way.

The story concerned Mr. Evinrude P. Jones, who finds himself unexpectedly at the Celestial Temporary Storage Station, where all auto accident victims are stored pending final disposition. Mr. Harper, director of the station, informs Mr. Jones he has just killed himself in an auto smashup. Harper is quite a character. He has a number of dry, gnomish little jokes about his work; he views all the auto victims more as irritants than personal tragedies, since they pile up his work. He enjoys showing his new victims around the celestial storehouse, pointing out the 34,000 slabs, and spouting facts and figures on auto accidents. Skillfully concealed in all this is a lot of information about the causes and prevention of accidents.

Because of its ironic approach to the problem, the broadcast attracted great attention last January. Hundreds of persons requested a repeat broadcast. Many independent stations requested use of the script or recordings of the broadcast in order to rebroadcast it themselves. Tonight the National Safety Council will present C. B. S. with its award of honor for distinguished service to safety and at 10 p. m. last night (Tuesday April 15) C. B. S. rebroadcast the original program.

Byrd Back, Describes South Pole Resources

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Washington, (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, returning from the Navy's Antartic expedition, said that long-range planes and dynamic ice-breakers have cracked the great white South Polar continent wide open for exploration and within 25 years men may be tapping its resources.

"There's an awful lot of coal down there," he said, in an interview.

Byrd also envisioned exploiting the vast ice cap as a natural refrigerator for the storage of surplus crops in bumper years.

"The world need never have another famine," he said.

"Surplus food could be stowed away in the polar ice as insurance against lean production years. I'm pretty sure it would keep perfectly. Time stops for such things down there."

Returning with 700 healthy but hungry-for-home men aboard the Expedition Flagship Mount Olympus, Byrd said he had never "officially" requested the government to claim territory in the South Polar regions.

He said the area is not strategically important and it is up to the State Department to make any claims "for the enormous amount of area discovered up to this time."

Byrd said he has not yet decided whether to recommend official United States action toward establishing part of the huge ice wilderness as American territory, although it has been said that we might justifiably claim approximately 1,800,000 of the Antarctic's known 6,000,000 square miles on the basis of exploration.

Under grey-rain-threatening skies, the ice-battered Mount Olympus docked at a naval berth on the Potomac river amid rousing strains from a navy band.

Wives, mothers, babies and friends of the explorers lined the dock for the welcome-home ceremonies by Secretary of the Navy Forestal, Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz and other high-ranking Naval officers.

Still locked away in secrecy are records of the expedition's discoveries during its exploration by plane, dogsled and afoot on the ice-pack. Approximately 2,000 men, in a 13-ship task force, took part in the 18-week voyage to wrest new data from the largely unknown continent.

Rubber trees in the Far East are still yielding latex after 30 years of continuous tapping, and botanists say the cycle may be continued indefinitely.

Why Motor Oils Get NERVOUS Breakdowns —

Motor oil is busy as a one-armed paper hanger. It must COOL your engine, SEAL IN combustion, lubricate and clean—all at the same time.

But gasolene and moisture seep into the oil; dust and grit collect along with soot and metal particles, and soon convert the oil into a mayonnaise-like mixture, SLUDGE. Then the oil can't effectively do its work and parts wear out—UNSEEN!

Our exclusive, patented CiscoSolvent treatment DISSOLVES sludge. In twenty minutes the oiling system is freed of dirty dregs—metal parts are left clean. Your engine can then get full benefit from fresh, new motor oil.

CLEAN OIL IN A CLEAN ENGINE is the most economical protection you can buy.

HARTMAN CAMP HAS FIRE LOSS

Cook Camp Destroyed In Early Morning Blaze

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the cook camp of the Frank Hartman logging company three miles east of Germfask early Sunday morning.

The camp was almost deserted and when fire was discovered it had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save it. Telephone calls to Germfask proved futile as the telephone station was closed. Efforts were confined to keeping the flames from spreading to the other building.

The fire loss fell particularly heavy on Mr. and Mrs. Guy Detzer, who had charge of the cook camp. They were in Cooks smelt fishing and lost all their possessions, including bedding, dishes, silver, a radio, and two outboard motors.

Hartman also lost camp equipment and a large quantity of supplies. There was no insurance on the property.

Uses Sidewalk For Speedway And Is Fined

Manistique's city fathers were just finishing up their Monday evening's session when one of them chanced to look out of the window, blink his eyes and inquire: "Did you see what I saw?"

Other members had.

A car was being driven on the sidewalk in front of the Mary Schneider residence and had just narrowly missed the light standard.

City Patrolman Lee Bare explained that such things are not permitted in the city of Manistique and had the driver arrested. The driver was Marvin Vallier. Hailed before Judge W. G. Stephens, he learned that there was nothing funny about the escapade. The judge said: "Twenty-five dollars and five dollars costs." The costs were promptly paid.

Auction Sale Of Tax Title Land Started Today

Thirty-five descriptions of land, 10 in Luce county and 25 in Schoolcraft county, will be sold at public auction at the court house today at 10 o'clock.

These parcels of land are items of property that have been taken over by the state through delinquent taxes and are being placed on sale by the conservation department.

Quit claim deeds from the state will be issued to successful bidders after the expiration of the 30 day redemption period upon surrender of the purchase certificate on lands sold and not redeemed by former owners.

In Schoolcraft county there are only two village lots for sale. These are located in Thompson.

Great fires sometimes create clouds, and enough rain to extinguish the blaze.

In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. John Stephens, who passed away 2 years ago today, April 16, 1945.

What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in days that used to be;
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.

EDISON-SAULT ASKS TAX CUT

Light And Power Rates May Have To Be Hiked Says Official

A request for a lowering of the assessments on Sault Edison company property in the city was made at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night embodying something in the nature of an ultimatum. Mr. Baldwin of Sault Ste. Marie, representative of the company, said if taxes against the company were not lowered, an increase in the city on power and light rates would have to be charged.

The company representative was advised to appear before the board of review which meets the first Monday in June.

The city manager was instructed to make arrangements for an extension of the city's contract with the Francis Engineering company, Saginaw, and to have the company make the necessary plans for concrete paving of Walnut street from Maple to Pearl.

A report of expenditures and activities of the city recreation board was read by Thor Reque, recreation director.

The city voted to send Thomas Anderson, a city employe, to East Lansing to receive a course of instruction covering water testing.

A permit was granted James Vaughn to improve his business and residence property on Deer street. The plans call for a brick front, new foundations and siding of the building with asbestos shingles.

Sewer service was granted W. O. McNally for his roller rink on Deer street.

The council authorized the city manager to make a request for bids for building a new front on the city hall.

CLARK MIXES INTO WALLACE POLICY SCRAP

private citizen, speaking only for himself.

Delay Costly

Clark's rebuke, strong as it was for an ex-fellow cabinet member, was not hotter than some others which have sounded in Congress. There is some Capitol Hill talk about a move to have Congress censure Wallace.

The Senate continued its debate, with Senator Lucas (D-Ill) complaining:

"I think every senator has his mind made up, yet here we go on, day after day, and delay the vote on one of the most important decisions ever to come before Congress."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), presiding, said "the time pressure on us cannot be ignored" and that further delay surely would mean "deterioration" of the situation abroad.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), an opponent of the program, blocked an attempt by Lucas to set a noon (CST) voting time tomorrow on the pending business. This is an amendment by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) to eliminate provision for even limited military assistance.

Baksi Wins Chance At Joe Louis (And He Can Have It!)

London, April 15 (AP) — Joe Baksi, the Pennsylvania beer-hall bouncer, belted British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock all around Harringay stadium tonight and stopped him in seven rounds—and thus became the leading candidate to be served up to Joe Louis this summer.

The blond clouter from the coal mines floored Bruce five times in the first two rounds, won all six of the completed sessions and had Woodcock's face cut up like chopped liver when the referee mercifully halted the proceeding at 1:12 of the seventh, with no objection from the crowd of 10,700 customers, who paid as high as $84 for ringside seats.

Thus Baksi, who had to go to England to be taken seriously as a contender for the Brown Bomber's heavyweight championship, now is close to a sure-thing to win that doubtful pleasure the next time Louis goes to the post, on June 26, in New York's Yankee stadium.

Wolverine Nine Nips Notre Dame

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 15 (AP) Pouring across six runs in the eighth inning, the University of Michigan took an 11 to 10 victory over Notre Dame here today in its home baseball opener.

Dick Schmidtke of the Wolverines came in to retire the last two Notre Dame batsmen in the ninth and put down a two-run Irish rally that came within a run of tying the score.

It was Notre Dame's second defeat in six games.

Nine U. S. Bombers Flying To Germany And Britain In June

Washington, April 15 (AP) — A training mission of nine B-29 bombers will fly to Germany about June 1, then visit Royal Air Forces bases in England, the Army Air Forces announced tonight.

The AAF emphasized that the flight is only for training. (So far as is known no Superfortresses are in Europe at this time).

The visits to RAF airdromes, the AAF said, were invited by the British service which has been making plans here through RAF representatives.

The AAF announced some months ago a plan for a round-world trip of B-29s. This plan was shelved upon the insistance of the state department which had an eye toward uneasiness of the Russians.

"At least 150 officers and men will take part in the flight," the announcement said of the June trip.

Ships Of D&C Line May Ply The Lakes Again This Summer

Detroit, April 15 (AP)— Directors of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company elected new officers today and then issued a brief statement declaring "no decision has been reached as to when our ships will be running."

The move apparently squashed reports that the D & C line, which has served the ports of Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo for many years, might be liquidated because of employes' demands for wage increases and other concessions.

D & C. spokesmen, who conferred with the various unions of seamen, longshoremen and other ships' workers during the winter, at that time described the union's demands as "impossible" and said compliance with them would "bankrupt" the company.

A spokesman for the company today hinted it was practically certain that the D & C vessels would ply the Great Lakes this summer.

Capt. D. Dwight Douglas, former Detroit banker, was named chairman of the board and James McMillan was elected president. Other officers are James Turner, first vice president; Charles T. Bush, second vice president; Edward E. Donnelly, secretary-treasurer.

said Pilot William Odom became a "little delirious" because of a shortage of oxygen on this hop.

The flight originally was scheduled to begin at 12:10 a. m., April 5. Mechanical difficulties forced delays, however, and then La Guardia Field refused Reynolds permission to take off there because of his heavy gasoline load.

Airport officials rescinded their order, however, when Reynolds agreed to make a Newfoundland stop instead of going directly to Paris. This resulted in a much lighter gasoline load.

The "Bombshell" was bought by the manufacturer from government surplus. In preparation for the flight, its armor and fighting equipment were removed, radar was installed, and the fuselage was crammed with gas tanks.

Odom, whose home now is in Roslyn, N. Y., but who formerly lived in Kansas City, Mo., is married and the father of two children. He had flown the Burma hump as pilot for a Chinese airline and made numerous round-trip crossings of the Atlantic as a ferry pilot in the war.

T. C. Sallee, flight engineer, is engaged to Miss Patricia Houlihan of Cody, Wyo., and had planned to be married before the original takeoff date but was unable to do so because of the work involved in preparing for the flight.

Miss Houlihan witnessed the takeoff last Saturday and Sallee said then they would be wed as soon as possible on his return.

Charles Logsdon, executive secretary of the National Aeronautic association contest board, said in Washington two weeks ago that Reynolds' flight would not set an official record since the planned route did not include the points specified by the Federation Aeronautique International.

No one has made a world flight under the official rules, Logsdon explained.

PICKETING BAN APPROVED BY HOUSE, 53-38

ber 1 and November 5 in 13 counties was set over for final vote tomorrow.

By an 11 to 67 vote, the House turned down a bill which would have required licensing and regulation of horse riding schools. Rep. John Espie, ways and means committee chairman, declared it would load added expense on the state and was unnecessary.

Other bills passed would:

Forbid issuance of final divorce decrees for six months where children under 17 are involved except where the court finds undue hardships would result.

HOME RULE DEBATED

Lansing, April 15 (AP)—A compromise proposal for county "home rule" charters, which would go to the voters as a constitutional amendment, was before the Senate today.

The work of the institute for local government, the measure was introduced by Senator Harry F. Hittle, East Lansing Republican. It would require a vote of county residents for local enactment and could be initiated by five per cent of the county vote for governor or a two-thirds vote of the board of supervisors.

The proposal would retain all existing county elective officials and boards of supervisors, but would allow the addition of a county manager, county corporation counsel, public works commission of three, controller or board of auditors and a county engineer, all appointive officials.

The Senate defeated by one vote a bill increasing jurors' pay from $4 to $6 a day.

Auto Workers Not Satisfied With Pay Offers From GM

New York, April 15 (AP)— The international executive board of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said today the wage settlement between the CIO's electrical workers and the General Motors Corporation did not constitute a wage pattern for the automobile industry and that the UAW would continue negotiations for an increase of 23½ cents an hour.

The executive board's statement was issued during its meeting to discuss pending parleys with automobile manufacturers for the 23½-cent increase and for a social security program for the union's 800,000 workers.

The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) and General Motors announced yesterday an agreement for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour.

Previously, the UAW executive board noted, the rubber workers had obtained an increase of 11½ cents an hour, and it said this rise also would not affect UAW demands.

Extended Inquiry On Michigan Prison System Imminent

Lansing, April 15 (AP) — Attorney General Eugene F. Black indicated today that before asking for a grand jury investigation of possible irregularities in the corrections department he may recommend an extended probe of Michigan's prison system.

He said he planned to confer Thursday with Deputy Attorney General John A. Bradshaw and State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, but would not consider a grand jury unless the Legislature provides $100,000 for its operating expenses.

Black has been studying a state police report of the state prison of Southern Michigan which Leonard said suggested possible irregularities in the prison, corrections department, prison industries and parole board.

Kalamazoo Farmer Held For Murder In Death Of Ward

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 15 (AP) —Lester Carpenter, 26, a farmer, today was ordered to stand trial April 28 on a murder charge in the March 12 death of his ward, four-year-old David Pierman.

Circuit Court Judge George V. Weimer entered a plea of innocence for the defendant today after he stood mute at preliminary examination.

The state charges Carpenter kicked and beat the child after the youngster soiled his clothing while playing. At the time, county juvenile authorities were boarding the child at Carpenter's farm in nearby Wakeshma township.

The charges against Carpenter include first and second degree murder in the first count and manslaughter in the second.

Yanks At Frankfort Target Of Grenade; Tosser Is Hunted

Frankfort, Germany, Wednesday, April 16 (AP)—U. S. Army and German police early today started one of the biggest manhunts in the Frankfort area since the end of the war in search of attackers who tossed a hand grenade among a group of American soldiers just before midnight.

Road blocks were set up in a lonely wooded area near the Rhein-Main airbase as police sought the occupants of what was believed to be a German automobile.

When the grenade landed on the highway where the soldiers apparently were seeking to hitchhike a ride, the Americans "hit the dust," a military police officer said. They escaped injury.

Hearing Conservation Program Starts Today

Hearing of all pupils in the public and parochial schools will be screened as part of the hearing conservation program of the Michigan Health Department.

The screening will begin today for public school pupils and will continue through Thursday. On Friday the parochial pupils will be checked. The screening will be done in the public library for public schools pupils and on Friday the unit moves to the parochial school.

Conducting the tests will be Courtney Osborn of the state health department, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Pickard, R. N., local school nurse, and Gertrude Sheahan, R. N., and Eileen VanEffen, R. N., of the Delta county health srevice. Screening of All Saints pupils will be done by Mrs. Pickard.

Gladstone is a demonstration point and school nurses and representatives will come from several parts of the Upper Peninsula to learn how the tests are given in order that they may conduct the screening themselves upon return to their respective schools.

Testing of 150,000 pupils in Michigan reveal that three and one half per cent of all school children have hearing losses that need attention; that two per cent need classroom adjustments to compensate for their hearing loss, and that one per cent are so handicapped by hearing loss as to need special education.

Figures also show that 75 per cent of children with hearing losses receiving medical attention for the defect had their hearing improved.

SWEDEN LOOKS TO THIS NATION

Wants Our Leadership In World Affairs, Says Speaker

The people of Sweden are closer culturally to America than are the people of any other European nation and they look to America for leadership, Nils William Olsson, instructor at the University of Chicago, said in a talk on "Thirty Months in Sweden" at Gladstone high school Monday evening. The Swedish club sponsored the talk.

During the war Olsson served as a Lieutenant Commander and was assigned to the American Legation at Stockholm as assistant naval attache. He traveled rather extensively throughout Sweden and met many natives of the country.

Although Sweden's neutrality did not "set well" with him at first, he came to view it differently later, and said that perhaps it was the wisest course because Sweden is not a military power and could have done little but bring destruction upon itself.

The speaker said the majority of the Swedish people were pro-Allied and were elated at America's entry into the conflict. He told of demonstrations at the American Legation and later before the British Embassy on V-E day.

Approximately 1,000 American fliers were interned in Sweden. They received the same privileges accorded Swedish military men, even to three free days monthly on which they could visit Stockholm or some other interesting point.

He lauded Sweden's social practices, praised their reforestation program and said he found the use of central heating plants common in Stockholm.

Colored motion pictures which he took in his travels throughout the country were shown to the large assemblage and Olsson described the scenes as they flashed upon the screen.

Preceding the lecture, the GHS Girls' Ensemble directed by Irving Johns jr., presented three selections and two selections by William Nelson brought the program to a close.

Gladstone Youth Was In Antarctic On Plane Carrier

Rayjoy J. LeRoux, seamen, first class, USN, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. LeRoux of 515 Superior ave., Gladstone, Mich., who is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea, has been made a charter member in the Order of the Penguin, an order created by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd especially for the 4,000 men of Task Force 68, who crossed the Antarctic circle while participating in "Operation Highjump."

The Philippine Sea, under the command of Capt. D. S. Cornwell, USN, is the only aircraft carrier to have penetrated below the Antarctic circle. Her mission with "Operation Highjump" was to carry Rear Admiral Byrd, technical commander of the expedition, and six transport planes, within easy flying distance of Little America. These DC3 transports became the largest planes ever launched from a carrier deck.

During her six day sojourn at a rendezvous area in the Ross Sea, 600 miles from Little America, the ship transferred 100 tons of cargo, 100,000 pieces of mail, and additional personnel to three ships, one from each group of Task Force 68; and delivered mail to a submarine operating in those waters. Among those taken aboard the Philippine Sea, the first ship to return to the States from the Antarctic expedition, were five of the six survivors of the December patrol bomber crash.

Approximately 300 icebergs were counted in the ship's vicinity, and she came within 10 miles of the forboding ice pack. The two month, 19,000 mile cruise, which made Naval and aviation history, took the crew of 1,800 through a gauntlet of weather ranging from torrid to frigid.

Newhouser Hurls Four-Hit Ball As Tigers Blank Browns, 7 To 0

DETROIT GETS ELEVEN HITS

Hal Hasn't Lost To St. Louis Since 1945 Opener

St. Louis, April 15 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, lefthand ace of the Detrot pitching staff, throttled the St. Louis Browns for the 13th time in a row today, pitching the Tigers to a 7 to 0 opening day baseball triumph with a masterful, four-hitter.

Newhouser, who won 26 games for the Tigers in 1946, hasn't lost to the Browns since a 7 to 1 beating the opening day of the 1945 season. Hal whipped St. Louis seven times that year as the Tigers won the American League pennant and then added five more victories last year without a defeat.

Detroit, which wasn't supposed to have much of a hitting attack this year after selling Hank Greenberg into the National League, pasted three St. Louis pitchers for a total of 11 hits—six of them two-baggers. Everybody in the Tiger lineup except Outfielder Hoot Evers had at least one hit.

Only 4,242 faithful St. Louis fans turned out for the season opener and few of them were around at the finish. Twice the game was stopped by showers—once for nearly an hour.

Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers wasn't on hand for the windup either, for Umpire Bill Grieve gave him the heave-ho in the fourth inning for arguing over the ruling that stopped play for the second time because of the rain.

Newhouser was stronger at the end than at the outset of the game. All four of the Brownie hits came in the first five innings. Hal, who struck out five men, also walked four—three of them in a shaky sixth—but St. Louis still couldn't score.

RED SOX LIKE NATS

Boston, April 15 (AP)—Just as a year ago, the Boston Red Sox launched their American League pennant drive today by offsetting Tex Hughson's wobbly opening day performance to gain a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators before a packed 30,822 crowd.

The 20-game righthander got under way in sensational fashion by setting down the first 15 batters to face him, only to lose his control in the sixth while working on an apparently safe 3-0 lead.

Ted Williams, who drove in the two-baggering Di Maggio with the first Boston run in the initial frame, collected a single, double and a walk while batting five times against the orthodox defense for lefthanded hitters.

Before Governor Robert F. Bradford of Massachusetts threw out the first ball, League President Will Harridge aided Manager Joe Cronin in hoisting the first major league pennant that has been raised in Boston since 1919 opening day.

The throng saw the compact left-hander limit the Tribe to six blows for his tenth win in 11 starts against Cleveland. Feller, yanked in the eighth for a pinch-hitter, was touched for nine hits in eight innings.

Connie Mack's A's, almost a unanimous choice to finish in the American League cellar, belted Spud Chandler, the Yankees ace, off the hill in a three-run seventh inning splurge to take a 6-0 lead.

LARRY PLEADS FOR DUROCHER

Yankee Chieftain Seeks Reconsideration Of Lippy's Suspension

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, April 15 (AP)—President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees went to bat for Leo Durocher today, seeking a reconsideration of the suspension which keeps the manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers off the baseball diamond throughout the season that began this afternoon.

The stormy Yankee chieftain, timing his move to coincide with the inaugural program, disclosed he had written to President Will Harridge of the American league to ask that the penalties against both Durocher and Yankee Coach Chuck Dressen, suspended for 30 days, be reconsidered.

The two men were suspended last week by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, who also fined the Yankee and Dodger clubs $2,000 each, as the result of hearings held earlier in Florida following charges of defamation which MacPhail filed against the Dodgers.

MacPhail, who made no mention of the fines in his announcement today, sent his request to Harridge who must add his own approval before it can be passed on to Chandler. The same routine was observed when MacPhail brought the original charges.

Ticker tape machines, radio-telephones for businessmen, and television and radio entertainment are envisioned for the future by British Overseas Airways.

Other NWM teams are Kingsford, Niagara, Channing, Iron Mountain, Marinette, Crystal Falls, Iron River and South Range . . . OPENING TODAY IN ASSOCIATION

Oldest Of Minor Loops To Draw 45,000 Fans; Two Night Games

BY FRITZ HOWELL

Columbus, Ohio, April 15 (AP)—With the major leagues having successfully staged their inaugurals, the American Association—oldest of the minor loops—bids for the baseball spotlight tomorrow by lifting the curtain on its 46th consecutive flag fight.

President Frank Lane predicted more than 45,000 fans would flock to daylight games at Kansas City and Milwaukee and night contests at Columbus and Toledo for the opening of what he termed a wide open race for the laurels.

Probable batteries for the opening contests:

Indianapolis (Woods and Poland) at Columbus (Griffore and Conroy).

St. Paul (Weiland and Franks) at Kansas City (Derose and Niarhos.)

Louisville (Clark and Aragon) at Toledo (Scott and Helf.)

Minneapolis (Fischer and Westerum) at Milwaukee (Ross and Raddant.)

Kansas City is expected to draw the largest crowd, 14,000, with 11,500 each at Toledo and Milwaukee. Columbus, which has wound up in last place the last two years, looks for a 9,000 attendance.

Escanaba Boxers Divide Two Bouts In Canadian Soo

Escanaba amateur boxers divided a pair of bouts at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Monday night. Jim Piche won a three-round decision from Leni Pianosi, of the Canadian Soo, and Charles Larson was stopped by Dick Nolan in the opening round.

Cliff Johnson, Manistique featherweight, lost to Morley Ostertag, of the Canadian Soo, by a TKO in the third round.

Several other local boxers who made the trip to the Canadian city were not paired on Monday night's card.

PIRATES TRIP CHICAGO CUBS

Big Hank's Screaming Double Wins For Pittsburgh, 1-0

Chicago, April 15 (AP) — Big Hank Greenberg belted only one hit in his National league debut, but it was a screaming double that enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to nip the Chicago Cubs, 1-0, and settled a stirring season opener mound duel between Truett (Rip) Sewell and Hank Borowy before 29,427 thoroughly chilled fans at Wrigley Field today.

While both pitchers allowed only five hits, Greenberg's two-bagger off Borowy in the sixth inning, a clothes-line poke to deep left center, chased Billy Cox home from second base with the game's only run.

Sewell, an eight-game winner last season, pitched masterful ball until the ninth, when the first two Cubs to bat singled and threatened to spoil not only Greenberg's transition from the Detroit Tigers of the American league, but also Billy Herman's get-way as new Buccaneer pilot.

However, the blooper-ball specialist bore down to get the next three batters and bring a big relieved grin to crooner Bing Crosby, part-owner of Pirates, who sat in a box adjacent to the Buc Dugout.

PHILLIES NOSE GIANTS

Philadelphia, April 15 (AP) — Pinch-hitter Don Padgett's single drove in the winning run today as the Philadelphia Phillies rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to nose out the New York Giants, 4-3, before 27,203 fans—largest opening day crowd in Shibe Park history. Big Bill Voiselle, Giants' righthander, had stifled the Phils with four hits up until the blow-up. Singles by Del Ennis, Ron Northey, Frank McCormick and an error by Sid Gordon preceded Padgett's game-winning blow to center.

WORLD CHAMPIONS BOW

Cincinnati, April 15 (AP) — The three-hit pitching of Ewell Blackwell and the hitting of Eddie Miller, Bert Haas, Rookie Frankie Baumholtz and Bobby Adams were too much for the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals here today and they went down to defeat before the Cincinnati Reds in the season opener, 3 to 1.

Until the ninth inning the cards, who played listlessly most of the way, got only one hit, that in the sixth, when losing pitcher Howie Pollet punched a bounder over second base.

REISER STARS; DODGERS WIN

Brooklyn, April 15 (AP) — Pete Reiser, key to Brooklyn's flag chances, blazed a seventh-inning double off the screen a foot inside the right-field foul line at Ebbets Field today to drive across the tying and winning runs as the pilotless Dodgers opened their 1947 campaign with a 5 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves.

Although he did not get a hit in three official times at bat, Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in modern big league ball, signalized his official debut as a Dodger by sprinting home with the deciding run on Reiser's smash and playing perfect ball at first base.

Back Injury Puts Pitcher Passeau On Retired List

Chicago, April 15 (AP)— The Chicago Cubs today placed their veteran pitcher Claude Passeau on the voluntary retired list.

The 38 year old hurler, who was plagued with a bad back, submitted to an operation two months ago for removal of a chipped disc in the spine. He was progressing favorably until two weeks ago when the back again became very painful.

Earliest Passeau could now rejoin the club is June 15, since reinstatement is not permitted before the lapse of 60 days. But Cub officials said it was not likely Passeau will return before August, if then.

Swifts Top VFWs To Win Escanaba Cage Tourney Title

The fast Bark River Tom Swift's added another championship to their belt in the Escanaba junior high school gym when they stopped the Escanaba VFW five, 75-53, in the finals of the city independent tournament last night.

The Swift moved into the finals with an easy 72-24 triumph over Oberg's. VFW had a tougher row to hoe, taking a 40-30 victory over Mike's Bar, but only after a rip-roaring overtime session.

Bob Ranguette, Swift center, chunked in 30 points to top all scorers in the night's finals. Jim Kessler scored 18 for the losers. Semifinal games were held just ebfore the windup.

11 ENTERED IN SILVER GLOVES

Contestants Asked To Sign Up Now; Blanks At Youth Center

Youngsters planning to compete in the Silver Gloves boxing show here late this month are asked to turn their entry blanks in as soon as possible so the night's card can be arranged.

Eleven battlers are already signed up. They are Pat Pierce, Douglas Bennett, Lloyd Brazeau, Charles Bennett, Richard Moreau, Richard VandeWille, Duane Brown, Roger Schei, Bobby Dubour, Howard Perrin and Larry Stein.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Escanaba recreation center. Boys up to and including 16 years of age are eligible to compete. Contestants must have training in order to enter. They will be given physical examinations before the bout and if not in condition, they will not be permitted to fight.

No eliminations will be held in the Silver Gloves meet. It is being held primarily to give youngsters boxing experience and provide them with an opportunity of fighting before a crowd.

Each boy competing will receive a Silver Glove award.

Drivers Still Seek More Prize Money At Indianapolis

Indianapolis, April 15 (AP)—The Indianapolis motor speedway, still deadlocked with the American Society of Professional Automobile Racers over the question of prize money, announced today it has 19 entries for the Memorial Day 500 mile race and expects more.

The deadline for entries is midnight tonight. Wilbur Shaw, speedway president, said any additional entries bearing a postmark prior to midnight would be accepted. Some, he said, might come from abroad as several foreign drivers had indicated an interest in the auto classic.

The starting field for the race is limited to thirty-three cars. Shaw refused to speculate on whether belated entries would fill the field.

The announced entries included no A. S. P. A. R. drivers. Ralph Hepburn of Van Nuys, Calif., the society president, spent yesterday with Shaw setting forth demands that the purse be hiked from $75,000 to $150,000.

Among the eighteen entries, however, are at least three veteran drivers. They are Ted Horn, Patterson, N. J., who had been competing in speedway races since 1935; Russ Snowberger, Detroit, who will be making his 16th start in the race, and Tommy Hinnershitz, Oley, Pa., who has been racing 16 years and has competed in three previous 500's.

Also listed is one foreign entry, that of H. L. Brooke, Coventry, England. Brooke cabled his entry.
